SOURCE Monitored Broadcast

Stockholm, broadcasting in the Swedish Home Service on 10 March at 1755 GMT, announced the following:

"Eskilstuna, Halsingborg, Jonkoping, Kristinehamn, (Saffle?) Trollhattan, Uppsala, Varberg and Visby will all have the same wave length of 215 meters; Gavle, Hudiksvall and Orndkoldsvik will have the wave length of 207 meters.

"The following stations will be below 200 meters. Tests and experimental broadcasts on the new wave length will take place every day 0615 - 1530, except Saturday when they will only broadcast from 0615 - 1115. Below 200 meters we shall thus have: Boras, Halmstad, Kalmar, Karlstad, Malmo, Norrkoping, Uddevalla and Orebro, which will have a wave length of 192 meters, and Porjus and Umea, which will operate 196 meters. Karlskrona will also operate on 196 meters but this station will not transmit any experimental broadcasts because it already has practically this wave length. Those stations which have a wave length of over 200 meters will not arrange for any experimental broadcasts before March 15."
